SLEEPING CARS ON THE JEFFERSONVILLE ROAD. We made an excursion trip on the Jeffersonville railroad to Seymour and back, Thursday, in com pany of about one hundred and fifty persons, uner the auspices of Messrs. Crothers and Littlethe former the energetic superintedent, and the latter the polite ticket agent of the road. The run to Seymour was made in one hour and fifteen minutes, and ample time given to test and admire the magnificent sleeping car just placed upon the road by the enterprising managers. It is exceed ingly well fitted up, with wide berths, and has accommodations for thirty-six passengers, including a ladies' cabin in the latest style, all provided with curtains and other conveniences to make a weary traveler rest in ease and comfort.

The car is fifty feet in length, and each room has a ventilator on an improved plan, and atand re-modeled and improved by Thos. W. Laidly, of Jeffersonville, at an additional cost of $500. He has, in course of construction, another car which will accommodate forty-eight persons with berths to sleep in. The cost of this car will be $3,500. Passengers who leave this city on the 10 o'clock night train can enjoy the luxury of the sleeping cars. The conductors, Andy Wauchon and Mr. Powell, were courteous and attentive and all enjoyed the ride, admired the new car, and wished prosperity to the road and its manage

THE GRAND ENCAMPMENT OF KENTECKY .-- This highly respectable body of Knights Templar convened on Thursday last (26th) at Frankfort, at its annual convocation. None of the Emcampments, save those at Frankfort and beyond, were represented, the delegations from Louisville and Hickman unfortunately missing the train, and the Encampments of Glasgow and Hopkinsville not appointing any. Lexington is selected as the place of the next meeting.

We learn that no movement was made, as con templated last year, for severing the connection with the General Grand Encampment of the United States, but that the feeling in favor of perpetuating that union is more decided now than firm at one-half per cent.; New Orleans dull at at has been for several years previously.

THEATRE.-The benefit of Miss Louise Wells last evening was attended by one of the largest audiences we have ever seen assembled in the Louisville Theater. The house was literally crammed from parquette to gallery. The fair benificiary excelled herself in the different characters she personated in the "French Spy"--particularly in that of the "Wild Arab" where her beautiful costume and superior acting drew down thunders of applause. In the afterpiece-the "Swamp Fox"-in the character of Mrs. Mott, she fully sustained her reputation.

This evening the bill is very attractive, being the "Swamp Fox." and the interesting drama, in two acts, of Jack Shepherd, on horseback. We anticipate another crowded house.

CONSUMPTION AND PARALYSIS, OR PALSY .- Particular attention of our readers is called to the advertisement of Dr. Flower, headed "To Invalids." found in our inside columns. His treatment in partillay paralyzed limbs, and all other nervous diseases, is new, and for the first time introduced to the afflicted of our city. The treatment is perfectly safe, and not really unpleasant. For further particulars invalids will do well to see his pamphlet and card, which is explanatory, and free to all, at his office, on Fifth street, between Walnut

LOUISVILLE, KENTUCKY: SATURDAY MORNING, MAY 28, 1859.

That Nigger-Stealing Machine.

We publish to-day an editorial from the Cincin ati Commercial on the subject of the Louisville and Portland canal, which we commend to the areful attention of our readers, both for the corectness of its views and the forcible manner in which it urges them. Intimately connected with the improvement of he canal is the enlargement of our wharf facilities. When the large number of boats engaged in the Southern and Western trade are enabled to pass the falls at all stages of water, we shall need three times the present extent of steamboat wharf in front of the city. We learn that when the contemplated improvements are made, a wing wall will be built from the head of the canal along the ledge of rock outside the basin to a point oposite Fourth street, not only to prevent boats om going on the ledge, but to increase the depth of water in the canal. If this be done, the steamboat landing must be above the mouth of the creek, and the city should commence improving hat portion of the wharf at once, and prosecute vigorously until sufficient accommodation

We understand that the owners of the square north of Washington street, between First and Brook streets, will open Water street as far east as Brook street, and donate to the city their land lying north of Water street extended, on condition that the city will enclose the space between Second and Brook streets and Water and Fulton streets, and plant it with shade trees as a sort of public grounds. This would give a space of about one thousand feet long and two hundred and fifty feet wide, and might be made highly ornamental It is said this could be done and still leave ample wharf room between the south line of Fulton street and low water mark. But we cannot undertake to say if this would or would not be so.

We believe that $300,000 of city bonds were authorized to be issued several years since, for FRUITS AND FLOWERS .- Persons of taste and wharf purposes, and of that sum $125,000 rerefinement will do well to remember that the mains unexpended. The wharf committees of the second weekly show of fruits and flowers two boards of the General Council are now unaniwill be made by the Kentucky Horticultural mously in favor of expending this sum, in im-Society this morning, in the south hall of proving the wharf from the mouth of the creek Masonic Temple, commencing at half-past nine eastward. This course is highly creditable to the committee, and evinces not only their intelligence, but what is equally commendable, an absence of any mere local or sectional prejudice, or jealousy bandsome one-and at 11 o'clock all the fruits as to where the money shall be expended. All and flowers shown will be sold to the highest | idea of buying property fronting on the river, and bidder. Handsome plates of strawberries, cher- constructing a wharf from Sixth to Ninth street, seems now to be abandoned; and no one expects that money will be thrown away in making an improvement there that would be of no advantage to the public, and could give no accomm dation to the shipping interests of the city.

The Council should commence these wharf improvements immediately. The squares between rapidly improved, affording large quantities of material, that at a small cost, can be obtained for making the necessary fills. Other buildings in the neighborhood will also be going up, affording the means of filling up and grading the wharf without expending much money. If anything is done this season, it should be done promptly. The unfinished condition of the wharf from Brook street to the mouth of the creek, is an eye-sore to the city, that should be removed as soon as pos-

MARION RIFLES .- Our notice of the parade of this fine volunteer corps on Thursday, did not appear, as it should have done, in our yesterday morning's paper. The company went through number of maneuvers in front of our office with great accuracy, and in soldierly style. We were pleased to see them, in force, at the theater last evening, to witness the performance of the "Swamp Fox," by Miss Wells' troupe, on the occasion of her benefit. The gallant Capt. Woodruff, and his equally gallant men, are deservedly held in high esteem by their fellow-citizens.

THE PIGEON MATCH ENDED .- This sporting affair has been suddenly terminated. Mr. Duncan not being able to come to time in consequence of a disabled arm. The $2,000 stakes will be handed over this morning to Mr. King, who is now the 'champion" of pigeon shooters. Duncan's bad ooting undoubtedly lost the match; but, besides this, he was attended with singular bad luck. losing a number of his birds, which fell just outside of the bounds. King was more fortunate. We hear that another match, and for a large sum of money, is likely to take place, and Mr

King is named in connection with it. ive thousand barrels of Northern potatoes have been received, and sold in this city for consump tion. They were brought here by steamboat and railroad. One house has sold, on an average, over one hundred barrels daily. This season too many of our home grown potatoes have been sent South. From thirty to fifty thousand barrels are sent from Louisville every season to FINANCIAL.-Eastern exchange is scarce and previous rates; Tennessee, Ohio and Indiana is taken at par by private bankers from customers; Illinois and Wisconsin, two per cent. discount; Missouri and Louisiana, one-half per cent. discount; Kentucky bank stocks are in demand, but very scarce. We are informed that $130 has been offered for Northern Bank of Kentucky.

NEW STYLE CHILDREN'S CARRIAGES, TOYS, &c. D. J. Murray, dealer in toys and variety goods, Fourth street, between Main and Market, has introduced, from the East, children's carriages of an entire new style. They are really handsome and a decided improvement on those which have long been in use. His stock of toys and variety goods is also very complete, to all of which he invites the attention of the public.

CHANGE OF THE HOUR FOR PUBLIC WORSHIP .-A large number of the congregations of our city have agreed to have their morning service on Sunday at half-past ten o'clock, instead of at eleven as heretofore. This change to an earlier hour, in accordance with the usages of most of our large cities, it is supposed, will conduce greatly to the convenience of worshippers and their families during the hot weather. The bells may therefore, be expected to ring from this time un til the 1st of October, half an hour earlier than usual on Sunday mornings.

POSTPONEMENT OF THE BALLET TROUPE ENTER-TAINMENT.-In going on the stage at Mozart Hall last night, Mll'e Celestine Franck, the danseuse, sprained her ancle, in consequence of which the performance could not proceed. The entertain ment advertised for to-night, is postponed until Monday evening. This is an excellent balle troupe, and it deserves encouragement.

COAL OIL LAMPS .- The best, cheapest, and most convenient coal-oil lamps we have ever seen or used, are the "Jones, flat-wick," sold by Mesars. Bardy & Robinson, Fourth street. They are man aged without the slightest annoyance or difficulty, and give a greater quantity of light for less money than any other lamp in existence. They only need to be tried to be appreciated.

ranted the nigger-stealing machine which Douglas designed, and Farran attempted to manufac ture out of non-intervention, he must send to Kentucky and take back those put to work in this State. They are doing very poor service in their cause. Our neighbor of the Democrat grows furious at being suspected of using one, and the whole thing is a failure. The people on this side of the river say it won't do to sing out non-intervention, while the inhabitants half of their negroes by unfriendly legislation, and stealing the other half by another branch of squatter sovereignty. They are beginning to cry out protection instead of non-intervention, and to resolve in public meetings that non-intervention neither means non-protection nor precludes the wholesome doctrine of PROTECTION, when both are rightly understood. We hope the Enquirer man has not invested as much money in this machine as he did gas in his celebrated 54° 40' speech, for if he did, his subscription list in Kentucky will never make up his losses. The indications now are, that his machine and subscription list will go out of Kentucky about the same time, and that The world's greatest benefactors are the

But for the conquerer of disease, for the man who sends forth from his laboratory, countess thousands of messengers of health with heal ing on their wings-for him, the voice of fame is nute. In Bonds .- The case of Chris. Havenstein, for hoeting Justin Lachner, his brother-in-law, in the suburbs of the city, was investigated yester day before Esquires Clement and Matlack. The hooting had its origin in a trivial matter, and Lachner wasn't much hurt. Havenstein entered into bonds in $300, to answer before the Jefferson Circuit Court. Lachner, and a witness, Chas. DRUNKENNESS AND DISORDERLY CONDUCT.—Chas. Allinger, Geo. Brown, and Mary Burns were called up for getting drunk. They were caught half drunk, whooping and hallooing on High street. The woman said that she was going to Portland, and the men had caught her and attempted to use her. But the character of the Burns is not above suspicion, and her story is entitled to no crelence. man, for beating Moses Thompson, was again up. Dr. McCabe stated that he was in the hospital, in a critical situation; his skull was fractured, .or rather shattered, and some time must elapse be-fore the result could be positively determined.— Up to this time there were, however, no unfavor-

Was ten feet off, but didn't see him distinctly.— He had on a blue overshirt, such as the prisoner wears. Saw him when he left, and run in the house, having in his hand, at the time, a black coat. When witness went in with the officer there were a good many in the house; pointed out the prisoner as the man; thought it was him, from his being awake; can't say positively whether this is the man who beat Thompson. Policeman John Lamborne stated that he went nto the house where Bennett said the man had gone, and found the accused, with two others, in a small bed; they were undressed, and he was not, and was awake; his shoes were down stairs, and when witness asked him why he left his shoes there, the accused made no answer. Policeman Magnire corroborated the testimony the difficulty, and knew who beat Thompson. It was Michael Burke. When he was beating the man, witness hallooed to him not to murder that man; when he left Thompson, he came up to witness and struck her, and said "d—n you, I'll kill you;" he then left; did not see the prisoner there. I know Burke well; last saw him the morning I first serve to Court, he came up near of the wey first came to Court; he came up part of the way and asked if I would swear against him. The prosecuting attorney thought the circumstances were strong against the prisoner, notwith-standing the statements of witnesses for the defense; their testimony needs corroboration; he suggested the matter be laid over, that other witsuggested the matter be laid over, that other wit-nesses may be summoned. The Vic ksburg Sun and Lexington Statesman. Not long since the Lexington Statesman put forth the following Black Republican heresy in the sacred name of Democracy

"Congressional legislation in protection of layery in the Territories irresistably carries with t the power to legislate for its exclusion. The it the power to legislate for its exclusion. The duty or right of Congress to protect cannot be maintained without admitting the power to abolish. If Congress can intervene for one purpose it can for the other. The South cannot assert a principle and expect to reap only its advantages. We must abide its full enforcement." To this, the Vicksburg Sun, a sterling Demo cratic and Southern paper, made the following trine sought to be palmed upon the unsuspecting as genuine Democracy, by the "Statesman." We say miserable, and it is so, and must be so view-ed by every intelligent man who reads it. If ed by every intelligent man who reads it. I Oongress, says the "Statesman," can interven Oungress, says the "Statesman," can intervene for the protection of slavery in the Territories, so it can intervene for the purpose of abolishing it. What a monstrous proposition! How utterly subversive of all good government! Because it is competent for Congress to do a constitutional act—an act founded on reason and justice, it can therefore do an unconstitutional act, though it, said act, be founded on injustice and oppression. We deny in toto the legitimacy of all such reasoning. The conclusion of the "Statesman" is a non-sequiler, as any logician will at once perreasoning. The concension of the "Statesman is a non-sequiter, as any logician will at once perceive. Will it be contended that because the General Government has the power to control trade between the States, it has equal power to stop the trade in slaves, between the slave holding States." ing States? That because the General Government may protect, but it may not destroy proper-ty. It is its duty to do one, but to exercise the other power, would be subversive of everything appertaining to true republicanism. Another Voice for Guthrie for the Presidency. The St. Joseph Gazette, a first-rate Democratic paper, published at St. Joseph, Missouri, in its issue of the 24th inst., has the following to say of our distinguished fellow citizen, the Hon. Jas. The Louisville and Portland Canal.

The fact that our commerce is most seriously checked at the Falls of the Ohio, is one that is just now forcing itself upon the attention of our business men. That we are suffering incalculably from the inadequacy of the Louisville and Portland Canal to accommodate the commerce of which the Ohio river is the natural channel, is indisputable. That there is an ample abundance of central

ble. That there is an ample abundance of capital ready to be invested in the improvement of navigation of the Ohio at the falls, is a proposition equally clear. The question arises: To what must we attribute the fact that nothing is done to relieve the commerce of the Ohio of the obstacle which is its greatest embarrassment? The Louisville and Portland Canal belongs to the General Government, which belongs to politicians, who seek the aggrandizement of persons and parties, and give no attention, other than is inciden is formed, composed of the most unscrupul olitical tricksters and treasury plunderers to be characters that the country affords, who have art fully associated with them a few men whose repu-tation has not become offensive, and who have some of our prominent National Legislators enisted in their enterprise, which is stated to be the construction of a new canal on the Indiana side of the falls. The first proceeding of this promis ing body was the purchase of the land red according to their plans, for the canal, not as the reader might suppose, if we had not enlightened him as to their character, to donate it to the Gov ernment, but to sell at exorbitant rates. This company is now and has been for several years endeavoring to get an appropriation of public money ostensibly for the improvement of the navi-gation of the Ohio, but really for the purchase of their lots at Jeffersonville. They are therefore lustily demading money in the name of the commerce of the West, which they expect to put in their own pockets. Their scheme is one of stupendous proportions: It would be difficult to quess how many millions of dollars would be direct for the work they propose. We shall not, upon this occasion, go into details. It is sufficient o say that no well-informed person is in favor of the new canal scheme who does not own land which he expects to sell the Government, or who is not directly under the influence of the lot hold ers. Every steam-boat man—owner, builder, captain, engineer, pilot, or shipper—who knows anything about it, and does not own Jeffersonvill lots, or is not the tool of some one of the company of sharpers, is utterly opposed to the Jeffersonville and New Albany Canal project, and is convinced that it is a scheme of almost unparalleled impract icability and corruption. But the speculators, no ontent with urging their own project, hav adroitly, and thus far successfully, opposed the recognition by Government of the enterprise for the enlargement of the Louisville and Portland Canal, which is eminently legitimate and practica-ble, as can be demonstrated in five minutes to any person of common sense. The present canal can One-fifth of the money necessary to make a new canal would enlarge the old one, so that it would accommodate the largest boats that now run in the lower Ohio. Indeed, we believe a sum sufficient to buy the land held by the corporation o speculators who have invested in Jeffersonville rould be enough for the purpose of enlargement These things can be proven by unquestioned facts and unimpeachable figures, careful and honest estimates and surveys, whose accuracy cannot b decently disputed, and are attested by the practi-cal knowledge of men of experience, who have no interests to subserve but those of the people of the Ohio Valley. We earestly believe that if it were not for the new Canal Company, the enlargement of the present canal, necessary for the removal of the obstacles, which are strangling our commerce could be speedily effected; and we believe, too, would have already been accomplished, but for would have hiready been accomplished, but for the operations of members of all three houses of Congress—the Senate, the House, and the Lobby—who have respected the new canal interest, and ignored every other interest connected with the a communication from a responsible citizen of this city, and an edutorial artible from the Louis ville Courier which will throw light. ville Courier which will throw light upon this subject; and we propose to give it further atten

The London Times on the War and the Commerce of England. [Exclusive Dispatch to the Cincinnati Ga

New York, May 26.
The London Times of the 14th, received to-day, by the Asia, in its city article, has the following remarks upon the possible effects of the war upon the commerce of England, in the event of that power being involved in hostilities. The most important question in counection with the possi-bility of England finding herself involved in war, is: what effect will it have upon our commerce. In the old war with France, the suspension of our nung in Liverpool for killing and eating his maritime supremacy would at any moment is sealed our ruin; and the grand effort of Napo was to acquire a European combination such as should exclude us from every port. So long as the profits of our enormous trade remain undisturbed, we are sure to tire out our opponents in every struggle. May we count upon being abla now, as heretofore, to secure that result? Many, looking at the fact that the French fleet is alleged. in number and power of guns, to be superior to our own, and contemplating the possibility of its being aided by that of Russia, are disposed to entertain misgivings. But, these persons omit to recognize the alterations effected by the lapse of a generation in the international maritime law. Inder no conceivable circumstances of temporary r even of prolonged disaster, could our ommerce now be interfered with. We or a time, lose our carrying trade, but that is the utmost injury that could be inflicted upon us.
The doctrine, accepted during the Russian wand subsequently confirmed by the Paris C gress, that free ships make free cargoes, has set-tled this point definitely.

Our interchanges of goods, therefore, would go our intertanges of goods, therefore, would go on with nearly as much steadiness as ever. Although the whole of Europe might be arrayed against us, the business would be conducted by the United States. Their ships would bring us outron, corn, and all other staples, according to our requirements, and would in turn distribute our manufactures over the world. Thus we should go on having selling and making money literary men were convened, a poet, by way of should go on, buying, selling and making money mismanagement, commercial prohibitions, and the depressing influence of conscriptions. It will be urged, perhaps, that in the event of all of our ports being blockaded, even the American marine uld then be of no service to us; but that is a ontingency which few Englishmen will think it ecessary to discuss, Such a course would soon make that power a party to the quarrel. But it may yet be said that although the inviolability of neutral vessels was so recently affirmed by France, Russia, Sardinia, Austria, and Turkey, as well as by this country, the three powers may, if it should suit their pur-poses, disclaim it with as little scruple as they have lately shown in stultifying their decisions at the same Congress, regarding the Danubian principalities. There is no roem for any such apprehension. Those who attempt to set aside the new principle must do so at the peril of immediate war with the United States. It is a matter on which the Washington Government will entertain no question, and the first interference with an American vessel would be followed by an instant demand for satisfaction. Happily, therefore the hearings of the case are now entirely. fore, the bearings of the case are now entirely independent of the wishes or decisions of the coa-tinental powers, whatever dreams may be nourished, of fulfilling to the letter the traditions of the first empire. That of forming a condition to that end, and to destroy the commerce of Great Britain, must be considered, by the progress of civilization, to have been shorn of nearly all its

THE ALLEGED FORGER COMMITTED IN DEFAULT OF BAIL IN $5,000.—The examination of Daniel Hazlet, alias George Harris, charged with the forgery of the check for $3,000, upon A. L. Mowry, was held yesterday, before Judge Lowe. Mr. Chas. Boynton, the receiving teller, identified the boy, Samuel Fox, as the one who deposited the original check, which was placed to the credit of Geo. C. Sledge. The boy himself was sworn, and positively identified the prisoner as the man who employed him at the Gibson House.

The accused offered no testimony, but throughout the examination, appeared to treat the matter as a good joke. At the conclusion of the evidence, Judge Lowe required him to give bail in $2,500, to answer at the Common Pleas to the charge of forging the name of S. N. The Pietform of the Democracy of Kentucky—The Dootrine of Protection to Slavery Promulgated by the Supreme Court, adopted by the State Convention, and endorsed by District Conven-OPINION OF THE SUPREME COURT IN THE DRED SCOTT CASE.

" No word can be found in the Constitution which gives Congress a greater power over slave property, or which entitles property of that kind to less protection than property of any other description. The only power conferred is the power coupled with the dvty of GUARDING AND PROTECTING THE OWNER 'N HIS RIGHTS.

Resolution of the Democratic State Convention beld at Frankfort, Ky., January 8th, 1859: RESOLVED, THAT WE CORDIALLY AND HEARTILY APPROVE OF THE DECISION OF THE SUPREME COURT OF THE UNITED STATES IN THE DRED SCOTT CASE.

Resolution of the Eighth Congressional Dis trist Convention, at Nicholasville, May 8d, 1859 BESOLVED, THAT WE AFFIRM AND APPROVE THE RESOLUTIONS PASSED BY THE DEMOCRATIC CONVEN TION AT FRANCFORT, ON THE 8TH JANUARY LAST, AND PLEDGE OURSELVES TO THE CORDIAL SUPPORT OF ITS

lic Territories thus acquired, for their particular use—to plant their particular institutions and systems of laws upon it, to the exclusion of the other? Certainly not. Therefore, in the case of Resolution of Seventh Congressional District Convention at Lagrange, May 14th, 1859 : RESOLVED, That we indoes the resolutions and proceedings of the 8th January Convention in Frankfort, and pledge to the State ticket then nominated our undivided support.

Why Col. Marshall Declined the Opposition Nomination for Congress.

It has already been announced that the Hon Humphrey Marshall is off the track, as we long ago predicted he would be. We had understood that the Col. did not like the manner in which certain managers contrived to destroy what little life remained in the American party, at the Louis. vills Convention, and substitute in its stead an Opposition party, which may be regarded as in favor of anything or nothing, just as the fancy of the speaker or the circumstances surrounding him, may suggest. It is probable that the Opposition candidate for Governor may have contributed to drive Col. Marshall from the field. It is well known that Mr. Bell repudiates the course Col. Marshall pursued, in regard to the admission of Kansas into the Union as a slave State, and says that if he (Bell) had been in Congress, he would have voted for the admission of Kansas under the Lecompton Constitution. This is his position in the southern part of Kentucky, at least, where that side of the question is very popular. His position on this subject is regarded as a fling t Messrs. Marshall, Underwood, and Crittenden. Mr. Underwood declines the race in his, as Col. Marshall has done in this District, and we don't suppose that Mr. Crittenden will ask anything just now. Neither of them could co-operate with Mr. Bell in the canvass, and rather than produce a schism, they have chosen to step aside. The election of Mr. Bell would be a pointed censure of those gentlemen.

But if we are not misinformed, there is another important reason which largely contributed to deermine Col. Marshall's course. 'It is the proposed fusion of the enemies of Democracy under the party name of Opposition, to elect a President next year. The National Opposition party will be as essentially anti-slavery as is the present (or rather the late) Black Republican party. Of course we do not mean that the few supporters it will have in the Southern States will all be thorough Black Republicans. But in the North, the only place where it will have any formidable strength, it will be unmitigated Black Republican; and whether it may choose to make a platform embracing such principles or not, no man can be its nominee for President, who is not well known to be a sympathizer with its peculiar doctrines, and who will not give assurance to the "knowing ones," that if elected he will in his ad. ministration carry out the principles of the Black Republican party. Col. Marshall understands this matter as well as any one else, and has lost enough by anti-slavery proclivities already, to be hostile to public.
And especially do we appeal to the Democracy of the South—to the great patrietic party to whom alone the country can look for salvation and safety. We say to our Southern Democratic brethren,—plant your standard upon the right. Make no more compromises with the errors, the fanaticism, or the demagogism of the North, whether it be of the Republican, or Democratic stamp. Demand your just rights under the Constitution. Make the movement. He will not permit himself with his present experience, to do an act which might even seem to commit him to the proposed coaliion. As the Louisville Journal has already more than once hinted its willingness to support this movement, and has in fact manifested considerable anxiety that such a party shall be organized, the acceptance of a nomination from the Oppo-sition in Kentucky at the very time when their ergan in this District is trying to inaugurate the National Opposition party, might be regarded as committing Col. Marshall in favor of what he wants to be regarded as a party, that in his opinion ought to receive the support of no national statesmen. Of course, under such circumstances Union.

Back down from this position—say you tolerate the demagogism of the North—say you make no distinction between the heresies of Douglas and your true rights—say that the Democracy may display one face—an Abolition face—at the North, and another face at the South—say that the Democracy of the North may continue to win Democratic victories upon Abolition grounds, and that you will aid them in such hypogrisy—do all this Col, Marshall could not do otherwise than he has done. Had the American party preserved its integrity, (although it had ceased to have an existe se, excepting in a few localities), Col. Marshal could have accepted its nomination for Congress, and he doubtless would have done so. But he was cratic victories upon Abolition grounds, and that you will aid them in such hypocrisy—do all this, but then, bid adieu to all your pretentions about your rights under the Constitution. The crisis has now come. You, men of the South, must now stand to your position, or ingloriously retreat, and be forever disgraced. Never again complain of Abolitionism, Douglasism, or any other heresy, and find no fault with Abolitionists going to Congress drassed in Democratic coats. nawilling to be placed on a ticket at the head of which is a man who, three years ago, declared that the pranciples of the American party were subver ive of the civil and religious liberties of this country, and who now says that he takes back nothing he said in 1856, as he holds the same opinions of the American party that he then held. This se. were censure of the principles of the American party, together with Mr. Bell's censure of Col. Marshall's votes in Congress, precludes the idea of Col. Marshall's accepting a nomination from a party that nominated Bell for the highest position n the State. Col. Marshall might have stood covert affiliation with Black Republicanism, but C.) Journal gives this item of musical intelligence:

"A queer incident occurred in this place during the Odd Fellows' celebration. It seems there was a calf, some two months old, confined in a lot close to the Methodist Church, and when Capt. Lucas' brass band commenced to play one of those soul-stirring airs which always arouses to the highest pitch the feelings and passions of the human soul, the calf became intensely excited, and began to dance and leap about, and so continued to do as long as the music was kept up, and finelly it became, as it were, frenzied by excitement, and after making one or two tremendous bounds, it fell and died instantly, without a struggle." was not prepared to stand an openly avowed amalgamation. Moreover, if Col. Marshall had acce pt ed the nomination, the Opposition would have ex pected him to travel over the District and abuse the Democracy. This Col. Marshall would not consent to do, from the fact that if elected to Congress he expected to find but two parties there-the Democratic and Black Republican-and he would like to be understood as feeling himself constrained to vote and act mainly with the Democratic party It is not "our funeral," but we honestly believe that the party, in throwing Col. Marshal overboard for the sake of getting Bell to run for Governor, have thrown themselves overboard.

What are we to think of the Louisville Democrat for using its influence and position, as a Southern Democratic paper, for the purpose of building up a Douglas party in Kentucky, and committing the Democracy of the State to practical Abolitionism? Upon the eternal principles of justice, can one portion of the States claim and possess the pub-

These are plain and simple principles applied to the public domain, and the rights of the States in it. But, until recently, they have never had the sanction of a judicial interpretation, because no question had arisen upon which such an inter-pretation could be founded. Such a question has at length arisen, and such an interpretation has been given. We allude to the recent Dred Scott decision. In that case the true relations, rights, and duties of the States and the General Government with regard to the Territories, have been interpreted and explained. In that case the phi-losophy of the problem has been discovered and Here should be found a panacea for the distractions of the public mind upon the subject of slavery in this country. The unquestionable justice of the decision of the Supreme Court of the Republic in the case alluded to, should be reknow that the party opposed to the Democracy full of demagogues, and demagogues, too, wh recklessly dare the fate of their country. Bu

we have them in the Democratic party, especial

ty are, that the party will not succeed, if they dare to be true and just to their brethren of the South, and to their country. They prefer the success of party, rather than to be just and do right—rather than to stand upon principle and nobly triumph.

South have a stern duty to perform. They have justice on their side, but the popular masses of the North do not understand it. The leaders of public opinion at the North have been treacher

These treacherous leaders—political leaders, womean—must themselves be reformed. Let the victory. We and you may be defeated in the be-ginning of this great battle. What of it? Truth will fall to rise again. And in the end, it will be

NATHAN WHITE,

OHIO WHITE SULPHUR SPRINGS. ANNOUNCEMENT OF THE PROPRIE TOR FOR THE SEASON OF 1859. THEORIO WHITE SULPHUR SPRINGS are situated in Delaware county, 18 miles nor no Columbus, the Capital of Ohio, on the Scioto rive from Columbus, the Capital of Ohio, on the Scioto river 10 miles from Delaware, 5 miles from the White Sulphu Station, on the Springfield, Mt. Vernon and Pittsburgl Railroad, and 10 miles from Pleasant Vailey or Spring Station, on the Columbus, Piqua and Indiana Railroad These Springs will open for the reception of visitors The improvements of 1859 have been large, enabling the proprietor to accommodate from five to six hundred gutsts. Among these improvements may be mentioned a large and elegant hotel, new cottage rows, additional buildings for amusement and recreation, extensive bath-houses, a steam laundry, &c., &c.

Upon the estate there are five Springs, all within the lawn, four of which, the White Sulphur, the Chaly-Brate, the Magnesian, and the Saline Chalvelate, are decidedly medicinal, whilst the fifth is remarkable for the purity of its water.

THE WHITE SULPHUR

THE WHITE SULPHUR is a beautiful Artesian fountain, situated near the rocky bank of the Scioto river. At the depth of 160 feet be-low the level of the Scioto, flews the remarkable stream of sulphur water which supplies this Spring. This stream was discovered some 50 years ago by a gentleman who was boring for salt. The water, when reached, at once arose to the surface, and has ever since continued o flow, during all seasons, without change or abateme

MEDICINAL PROPERTIES. For years these Springs have been highly esteemed for heir medicinal properties. During the past season their reputation in this respect has been singularly confirmed. They were administered by a physician, judiciously as o quantity, time of drinking, continuance, &c., and un-ier this systematic plan the cures were numerous and gratifying. THE WHITE SULPHUR WATER s peculiarly serviceable in those disorders of the Live and Stomach which so often afflict gentlemen who have oeen too closely confined to business, and persons of se-lentary habits. THE CHALYBEATE SPRINGS are permanent tonics. Their effects upon broken-down and debilitated constitutions have been not transient but lasting, giving to the blood a new vitality, and to the person new life and vigor.

THE MAGNESIAN WATER

person new life and vigor.

is a gentle aperient.

Invalids may rely upon every facility being furnished them which can contribute to health and comfort.

As a delightful resort during the summer months, the oblio White Sulphur Springs have no rival in the West, and but few in the United States. The location is peculiarly healthy; the Scioto here is a rapid, rocky stream; the "Oliff Limestone," a formation hundreds of feet in thickness, through which the river cuts its way, is everywhere either at or near the surface; the grounds of the estate are beautifully undulated, and interspered with numerous ravines which carry off all the superfluous water, thus rendering the soil dry and the atmosphere free from that humidity so prejudicial to health: these circumstances, taken in connection with the altitude of the place, about 1,000 feet above the level of the ocean, make the locality as free from malarious influences as a mountain region.

The Spring property consists of 320 acres of land, one hundred of which is covered by one of the most beautiful groves in Ohio. This woodlund is handsomely laid off into walks and drives, one of the latter being two miles in extent.

BATHS. Bathing here by the plan adopted is brought into fair competition with that at naturally Warm and Hot Springs. The water is heated in the bath tue by steam pipes; the heat not being raised high enough to precipitate its saits, it is by this system applied to the surface of the bather without the loss of its saline ingre-TELEGRAPH OFFICE.

TELEGRAPH OFFICE.

A Telegraph Office, communicating with all parts of the country, has been established at the Springs. To be thus in connection with distant points, will be a great convenience to gentlemen who can hear from and direct their business affairs daily.

All the accessories necessary to health, pleasure and amusement, visitors may expect to find at the Ohio White Sulphur Springs, as the proprietor is determined to make it, in every particular, a first class watering place. Gratified with the liberal patronage extended iast year, no effort will be spared to merit its continuance. ance.

A Livery, well stocked with horses and carriages, is attached to the Springs.

Will destroy Garden Insects, Cockroaches, Bed Bugs, Fleas Anis Moths, and all pests of the vermin kind.

The importance of a reliable article of this kind is instinable. In warm weather all nature teems with these annoying foes. This powder is the only article ever discovered which will exterminate them. A company of botanists, from the Hortlcutural Society of Parls, while amidst the ferns of Asia, observed that all insucts lighting upon a certain kind of plant very soon orooped dead. This fact was made use of to guard their night camps from these intruders. Quantities of the plant ward brought home by Mr. E. Lyon, and found a pusitive insect destroyer in every experiment. It is simply a powdered leaf, chemically prepared to resist the effect of again and climate. Medals and Letters Patent have been obtained from the Governments of England, France, Germany; and Russis, from the World's Fair, and numerous medical and horticultural colleges, and societies.

MISCELLANEOUS.

TEERIFIC FIGHT WITH A RATTLESNAKE.-We have hitherto supposed the day long since passed for chronicling a big snake fight in the vicinity of the Central City, but such it appears is not the case, from a scene which recently transpired within a short drive from the court house. Some of the older residents will remember a building which formerly stood on Prospect Hill, about six miles distant from Peoria, and which was destroyed some seven or eight years since. During th past season another house was erected near the same location, and all that has remained as relics of the old hotel was a partially filled excavation for a cellar, and two well-preserved brick cisterns, which had been kept covered up. Last week, the proprietor of the place, while busy with his wife n preparing their summer flower garden, found himself in the want of a few bricks for the edge of the walks. Remembering the cisterns, he un-covered one of them, and finding it dry at the ottom, and only about six feet in depth, he jumped in, and only about six feet in depth, he jumped in, and commenced throwing out some of the best bricks he could pick from the walls. It seems there was a piece of plank with one end partially imbedded in the earth that somewhat incommoded him, so seizing it, with some exertion, he pulled it out and threw it to the top. What was his horror and surprise, at the next moment, to find that he had unearthed an enormous rattlesnake, and himself without a weapon in his hand. As the cistern was round, and only about five feet in diameter, he could not jump out, and the snake, bristling with anger and rattling defiance, was ready for battle. His screams brought his wife to the scene, but she was so overcome with fright that she became powerless to render any assistance. The snake, in the meantime, had commenced the fight, making repeated springs at him but fortunately he managed on each occasion to hit him upon the head with his boot, without re ceiving a bite, the snake all the time becomin more defiant and enraged. During the whol scene, which lasted several minutes, the man did not lose his presence of mind, but watching his chance, made several frantic efforts to jump bodily from this seemingly pit of destruction. At the last trial, he fortunately grasped a brick, which gave way with him, and remained in his hand, as he again stood fronting his hissing enemy.

After a few more kicks, and watching his oppor-tunity, he fired it, making probably one of the best shots on record, for it struck the snake on the ead, and between the one sent and the wall, he ecame a "pretty well used up sarpint." Weak and exhausted, our hero, by the assistance of his wife, was enabled to climb from the pit, but when once more upon the earth, he fainted away, and it was some time before he recovered. For several succeeding days he was quite unwell, owin probably to the poisonous effluvia inhaled, whil his desperte exercise in the encounter rendered him exceedingly lame. The snake was after wards taken from the cistern, when it was foun to measure seven feet in length, and contained thirteen rattles! The latter have been preserved, and are placed in Shoaff's Museum for exhibition. -Peoria (Ill.) Transcript, May 18th.

A WOMAN OVER HACENEY FALLS-GALLANT RES CUE.—On Sunday afternoon, about 5 o'clock, Miss Wealthy L. Paul, a young lady residing on Jeffer son street, while crossing the Owasco outlet, just above Hackney Falls, on some beams thrown across the stream, bacame dizzy by the rush of the water and fell into the whirling torrent, and ment she made what appeared to be the fata pluage, which was witnessed by some excited spectators on the banks. The falls are about wenty feet in hight, and the immense body of water that rushed over carried her along like a

After she made the plunge she was seen strug-ing in the water below. Some men on the bank, ith pale cheeks, witnessed her struggles, but nade no efforts to rescue her. She was under the alls and whirling around like a top. Her fate seemed certain, when a young man, by the name of William Marks, gallantly rushed forward, threw off his cost and vest, kicked off his boots, and plunged head first from the high and rocky shore into the water, a height of thirty feet; he disappeared for a moment, but soon came to the surface, and in a few quick strokes he reached the drowning woman, seized her and commenced the difficult and dangerous feat of rescuing her. The banks on either side of the outlet are preipitous and abrupt, and he was, consequently, bliged to swim with his burden some twenty ods down the stream. Fortunately the young lady did not ignore the fashions of the day asequently her "Douglas & Sherwood's best" uyed her up and made the exertions of her norescuer much lighter. After considerable ef ort Miss Paul was restored to her senses, and conveyed to her home. Miss Paul was in a precarious situation up to 12 o'clock last night. was then pronounced out of danger by her physician, Dr. A. C. Traber. She is now threatened with congestion of the lungs.—Auburn (N. Y.) Advertiser, 24th.

C.O. D.—An Irish store-keeper having orderep a quantity of haddock fish, by Adams & Co.'s express, was somewhat indignant upon the delivery of the fish to find on the outside of the package the letters "C.O.D."

"An sure," says Pat, "I didn't order codfish!"
The express man examined the fish and pronounced them haddock.
"Well," says Pat, "c-o-d won't spell haddock."
"Oh, no, the expressman replied, "c-o-d spells

"An," says Pat, triumphantly, pointing to the fish, "them's fish!"

"But where do you get the cod from?" returns the express man. "Look there," says Pat, pointing at the portentous "C. O. D.," "that's cod, to be sure."

"Oh, no," replies "express," "that's "C. O. D., which means, 'collect on delivery!"

"Ah, bedad, I didn't think o' that," cries Pat, scratching his head with one hand, and feeling for his pu se with the other; "but, young man, let me give ye a bit o' advice. When yez bring any more bundles for me, don't put on anything so mysterious again; but joost revers the big letters D. O. C. and then yez can deliver on collection, which any fool can understand." which any fool can understand." The express man walked off, much pleased, and promised to lay Pat's suggestion before the super-intendent.—N. F. Mercury.

THE BIVER is falling at the rate of about an inch in 24 hours, with 4 feet 9 inches in the canal, last evening, by the mark. The Landis, drawing 5½ feet water, worked her way through the canal last evening very handily. On the falls there are 2 feet 9 inches water. The weather turned sudienly and unseasonably cold yesterday, the thermometer indicating a fall of 20 degrees in the emperature.

Heavy rains have fallen along the Ohio below Cincinnati, and light rains fell in this vicinity esterday morning, which have cooled the atour dispatches from Pittsburgh and Cininnati, it appears that the river continues to fall at those points, with only 3 feet in the channel at Pittsburgh.

The Cumberland river at Nashville, Wednesday was falling, with seven feet water on the shoals, and the Tempest had departed for this city.

The Steve Decatur and Die Vernon, from Louis, passed Evansville Thursday evening, and vere due last night. The Die Vernon, in charge of our popular riend, Capt. John M. Martin, is advertised for

t. Louis this evening. She will start from Portand at 4 o'clock.
We have heard a good many stories of the gold found by emigrants in Cherry Valley, but aw yesterday a returned Pike's Peaker, who came round on the High Flyer. He had the profact of three months labor in the gold diggins. all in a small goose quill.

The following in reference to Red river is our New Orleans exchanges of Sunday

The Lecompte repo ts a rise in Upper Red river of here or four feet, which will let out the boats above the shoals. The Era No. 1, Trio, and other boats, are all experted to be on their way down with full loads of coteported to be on their way down with full loads on, engaged at such fancy prices as $6 per bale. THE JOB BOAT DILIGENT .- We have mentioned is several times, and understand that she starts St. Louis to day. The Diligent is a well-built, ommodious tow boat, and pleasure boat, and ill prove serviceable in the harbor of St. Louis, she is designed to ply. The boat was for Capt. W. A. Porter, who has constantly superintended her construction, and succeeded in uring a very stout, handy boat. The hull was it by T. S. Nadal, of this city. It is 136 fee n length, with 28 feet beam; 24 feet floor, and In length, with 25 leet beam, 24 leet not, and 45 feet depth of hold, drawing only 80 inches.
The engines, doctor, &c., all complete, were made at the foundry of Hawly, Billings & Co.—
Our clever friend Joe Mitchell, who has no superior in the West, made the boilers—three in numper-and we know that they will stand the test. ber—and we know that they will stand the test.—
The iron work was all put together by the skillful hands of A. Baker. The joiner work, rooms, &c., was turned out by McClaran & Co., of the steam factory. She hasrooms for officers and crew, and an open room nearly 100 feet leng, and 20 feet wide, for pic nic, or excursion, and dancing parties. She is a side wheel, handy craft, presenting a very neat appearance at the river, and will certainly prove a decided acquisition to the people and harbor of decided acquisition to the people and harbor o t. Louis.

The Dilligent starts to St. Louis to-day, if charge of Capt. W. A. Porter, who built her. He is a clever man, and will take all the freight ofered, as she tows seven barges out.

We learn that Capt. Newell, formerly of the H. R. W. Hill, will take charge of the Victoia, in the Vicksburg trade, during the remainder the season. The White river packet, Evansville, let phis for Louisville on Monday evening, to e taken in charge by her new owners. THE OVERFLOW OF THE MISSISSIPPI,—The following extract from a letter from Greenville, Miss. the details of the lands and plantations overflowed in that region by the present flood in the Mississippi. Many plans of prevention have been suggested, but we think that of continuous evees on both sides of the river wrong, as they confine the waters, and increase their density and oreak or crevasse occurs. Openings on one side of the river, or the other, at alternate points, should be made, especially in swamp districts, Moon lake, and other outlets. Sacrifice a few for

Moon lake, and other outlets. Sacrifice a few for the benefit of the many, and pray for the overflowed districts:

This point is 75 miles below Napoleon, the county seat of Washington. Between Napoleon and Columbia, Arkansas, the western side of the river is but slightly affected by the overflow. The levees appear perfectly sound, and able to resist a much greater strain than they have yet been subjected to. The upper part of Desha county is somewhat inundated, about 16,000 acres being submerged, of which, however, not over 2,000 are under cultivation.

The average width of the Arkansas bottom from Napoleon to within 100 miles of the Louisiana line, is about 25 miles. Two-thirds of this tract was overflowed last seas in. Below Columbia, down to this place, the Arkansas leve is overflowed at several points, and about 3,000 acres of productive land inundated.

On the Mississippi side, I find the bottom almost entirely overflowed, from Prentiss down to Island 82.

It is estimated that 800,000 acres are under water in this tract, embracing some of the richest and most productive plantations in Yazoo county.

On the opposite side the lower portion of Chicot ounty, Arkansas, is completely covered. The large plantations of Messrs. Ringgold and Polk have not an acre in sight. The break at Matthew's Bend is a bad one, and overflows the country for several miles back and below. The Ross plantation, cont-sining about 1,000 acres under cultivation, its entirely under. Judge Griffin and Col. Klipatrick are both under. These two gentlemen make usually about three thousand bales. The country in the vicinity of Lake Washington is wholly inundated. Harvey Miller's magnificent plantation is badly overflowed. The Cox, Bullitt and Egg plantations are all two-thirds under. In the region of Deer Creek not an acre of dry land is visible. The plantations are all two-thirds under. In the region of Deer Creek not an acre of dry land is visible. The plantation of Senator Douglas, containing about 400 acres, and the amount of damage done Inspectors of this district, regarding the steamer Tishomingo as unsafe and unseaworthy, have or-dered her out of service. Her inspection papers expired some weeks since, and since that time she as been running in violation of law.

THE WRECKS OF THE NAT HOLMES AND DAVID GIBSON.—We learn from a friend who visited the wrecks of these boats recently sunk by collision with each other in the Ohio river, opposite Petersburg, that the Nat. Holmes was struck two feet aft of her forward chock, on the larboard side ranging back to the boilers, and cutting through the hull nearly to the hatch. The boilers of the boat were struck, and actually knocked overboard. The bow of the David Gibson was terribly shat-tered to the capstan, the capstan unshipped, and the spindle bent down flat to the deck. and the spindle bent down flat to the deck.

The bell boat Sub-Marine No. 6, Capt. Patrick, was wrecking the Nat. Holmes, and in ten days expects to have the boat entirely stripped of her cargo and machinery. In the hold of the boat was about an average of eighteen inches mud. After wrecking the hull, Capt. Patrick designs endeavoring to recover the boilers of the Holmes. The bell-boat expects to be able to raise the David Gibson as soon as the river talls six or eight feet more at that point. The above facts eight feet more at that point. The above facts were obtained from personal inspection of the boats, and from the officers of the beli-boat at work over the wrecks. They demonstrate the fact pretty conclusively that the headway of the bosts, particularly the Gibson, was not stopped excepting only by the force of the collision. Capt. McKinley, of the David Gibson, as we have already published, has been indicted by the great diving at Indianapolis for manslaughter. grand jury at Indianapolis for manslaughter.

By passengers from Lexington, last even-By passengers from Lexington, last evening, we learn that heavy rains had fallen all through that region, and at Frankfort the Kentucky river was rising again, and very muddy.

The Dove, Capt. Sanders, is the regular Kentucky river packet this evening. The starts at 3 o'clock, for Frankfort and Woodford, with our clever friends Pendleton and Woods clerks. The High Flyer, as we learn from Capt. Tom Wright, is having a new shaft made to re-place the broken one, and he expects she will be all right and ready to resume her place in the St. Louis trade Tuesday week.

The E. H. Fairchild cleared for N. Orleans last evening with a good trip, including 1,500 coils of rope, and a vast amount of bacon and pork, chiefly for plantation landings. Freights continue firm at the advance—30 cents for pound lots. The rates from Cincinnati yesterday were as follows: New Orleans—Whisky and oil $1; flour 50c; pork 75c; pound freights 30c per cwt. A brace of steamboat cooks had a regular set to on the whalf yesterday morning. The cause of the muss was something about cutting down wages by one or the other.

Thanks to our clever friend, Capt. Brown, clerk of the Jacob Poe, from Pittsburgh, for manifest.

The Jacob Poe, in charge of Capt. Andrews, a popular boatman, is advertised for Parkersburg and Wheeling this evening. She is a staunch, well managed craft.

The ferry boat, Excelsior, grounded at Portlard several times yesterday, and the channel was very much cut up and difficult to run. To the officers of the fleet Jas. Montgomery we are indebted for a manifest, and New Orleans papers of Sunday, forwarded from Cairo. She is due this evening. The Superior, in place of the Strader, is the mail and passenger packet for the East, at noon, to-day. HIRD AGROUND .- The Anglo Saxon last even-

THE VESPER GAS AIR LIGHT.

The Cheapest, most Brilliant, and most Convenient Artificial Light in the World.

THE Vesper Gas Light has won for itself a reputation for elegance, economy, safety and simplicity, far beyond any other artificial light. The Vesper Gas flam and fixtures precisely resemble in form those of coal gas but in brilliancy and purity of light, it possesses a decided advantage over even Louisville coal gas. It requires no chimney; there is no need of daily trimming owick; and the construction of the fixtures is so simplitat it is not liable to get out of order, and a child car when and the construction of the fixtures is so simply that it is not liable to get out of order, and a child ca manage it readily. The gas burnt in the Vesper fixture is generated from pure coal oil, without any admixtur of alcohol or other foreign ingredient. It is entirely free from odor while burning, as, by a simple contrivance, the vapor of the oil is mixed with the atmosphere oducing perfect combustion and a most intense light in constant use for months, as most pleasant to the it in constant use for months, as most pleasant to the eye while reading or sewing, the rebeing no flickering or unsteadiness in the flame. The Vesper Gas light is portable, and can be used in town or country—in fact, wherever artificial light is required. The fixtures themselves are adapted in styles to suit all tastes, from the plain single light burner to the most costly chandeller. Each chandelier is perfect in itself; there is no outlay to be made for service pipes. The sis generated in the burner, and all fixtures, from the cheap single light burner to the expensive chandelier, are miniature gas works in themselves. They are sold at prices which do not exceed the cost of ordinary gas fixtures of similar styles and ornamentation. A price list will be sent to any address on application. any address on application.

DAILY COURIER

HAYTIAN COSTUMES.—James Redpath writes to the N. Y. Tribune of his observations during a After descending from the mountains, we passed

After descending from the hountains, we passed two or three collections of huts. At one of them—four leagues from Gonaives—we saw an interesting family group. There was an old man, a young man, and two young women—the men with young man, and two young women—the men with their feet and the women with their breasts un-covered; three almost naked children—one, a girl, fat and whining; one, a boy, dirty and merry; both utterly naked, but both under two years of age; and a boy, eleven years old, with the most unique of light summer dresses. He wore a checkered handkerchief on his head, and an old broken case knife suspended from his neck by a piece of twine. That was all. Cool, wasn't it? and cheap. THE CASE OF THE BOY MORTARA.-The Lord

Mayor of London received the following communication: ROME, April 28-8.45. To Sampson Samuel, New Broad street, London

Contrary to every expectation, I could not succeed in obtaining an audience of the Pope to present our memorial. Cardinal Antonelli received it from me this morning, at the Vatican, and wil hand it to the Sovereign Pontiff. The Cardinal gave assurance of good will towards the Israelites in the Papal States, and that everything will be done to prevent the occurrence of any similar case.

The parents of the child Mortara can have free access to him.

Moses Montefiore.

Polite to the Last, The Spanish Consul for Australia, Don Antonio ie Ayala, lately blew out his brains while in England, but before doing so wrote a letter of apology to the Duke of Marlborough for destroying himself in his Grace's park, which is a perfect curiosity

My Lord:—I humbly ask your lordship's pardon and forgiveness for the great liberty I have taken in coming to put an end to my dreary and miserable existence in your park. It may be a childish feeling, but one cannot blow his brains out in a common road, or one of those cultivated fields full of cottages, and life, and civilization and railways, and establishments of all kinds, of which your blessed country of England shound. So I your blessed country of England abound. So I have not found another proper place to die de cently than your handsome park, and you must bear the inconvenience of a dead man in your grounds. I mean no offence.

I have yesterday visited your house, hoping the sight of good things, and shift of good things.

ight of good things, and chiefly good paintings, ould do me good, and soften the wild ideas that had led me to put an end to my life; but all of no use. Your manor is one of the most noble, splendid things I saw in my life, and I have traveled bout and seen nearly everything worth seeing. You have the finest Rubens that can be seen; that should have a great attraction for me under ner circumstances, but now they have been of no use.

I hope, with that splendid house, and park, and I nope, with that spiration notice, and parts, and paintings, and library, you are happy, my lord. If that is the case you will have a kind heart, and pity a poor devil come to die in your grounds. If, the contrary, you are miserable also, as wealth a medium, and does not constitute happiness, hen cou will say like old Dico,-

"Non ignara mali, miseris succurrere disco," nd pity me, and order that they shall leave me uiet, and bury me in the spot I have died, and out a cross on it in the Spanish fashion. I will very grateful in the other world for it if do so, and wish not to trouble any more your lordship about me. I am, my lord, yours respectfully

BONAPARTE — BOURBON — ORLEANS.—The positions which these three houses now occupy may be thus stated: Louis Napoleon, the reigning head of the Bonaparte family, is the leader of the allied armies of France and Sardinia, and is in the field against Austria. Count de Chambord, the head of the Bourbon branch, has resided in Austria for the last twenty years, but now retires to Holland, requising to remain under the flag of a pation at war fusing to remain under the flag of a nation at war with his country, Frarce. The young Duke de Ohartres, the head of the Orleanists, joined the Sardinian army as soon as war was declared, and proposed to take part in the approaching conflict. But his uncles, the Orleans princes, being opposed to this course of the young Duke, have recalled bin to London. The London Daily News says that he was pursuing his studies in a Sordinian military school when the war broke out, and nothwas more natural than that he, a youth under enty years of age, should have participated in eenthusiasm of his comrades. The News thus

French Emperor, who is now virtually the Commander-in-Chief of the Sardinian army, would object, for political reasons, to see a Prince of the house of Orleans gaining military distinction before the eyes of the French regiments. It is not nown that the Emperor has actually made an such objections, but the incongruity of the situation which might have occurred is patent. More over, although an exiled prince might gain popularity by risking his life in fighting side by side with the French army, it may very well be hat the Orleans princes do not think it wise, for that the Orleans princes do not think it wise, for the sake of gratifying youthful ambition, to adopt the responsibility of the war, and gratuitously to exhibit their house as inimical to the dynasty of Austria. The withdrawal of the Duc de Chartres from Turin is therefore what was to have been

ROMANTIC MATRIMONIAL DEVELOPMENTS .- The suits against John H. Bates, an Englishman re-cently convicted of bigamy at Dedham, and which are brought by three different parties to recove for board of the first wife, were commenced in the second session of the Superior Court yesterday, as vill be seen by our Court record. The trial ves terday developed some rather romantic incidents in relation to Bates' matrimonial career. The woman who claims to be his first and legal wife, says she was married to him in 1834, and that she was soon after deserted by Mr. B., who married another woman, with whom he has lived twenty years, and by whom he had fifteen children. The first wife pursued Bates and secured his con ction as a bigamist; but in the mean time she and married again, and Bates retorted by having ber indicted for the same offence. The question come to be whether the legal Mrs. Bates has so conducted herself since she was descrted, as to en-title her to support by the husband. The main features of the defense are to prove that she has been married to another man, and committee adultery.—Boston Traveller.

Berlin, Tuesday, May 10, 9 A. M.—The solemn uneral procession of Alexander von Humboldt is now on its way to the Cathedral. All that represents science, art and intelligence in Berlin joins in the procession. Three Chamberlains in gold costume, bearing the orders of the illustrious deceased, precede the funeral car, which is drawn by six horses from the Royal stables. Upon the car s a simple uncovered coffin of oak adorned with dowers and laurel. On either side of the car are students bearing green palm branches.

A line of carriages of immense length closes the rocession. The Prince Regent and all the Princes and Princesses are assembled in the Cathedral, awaiting the arrival of the great philosopher's mortal remains. A mournful aspect overspread s

Love.—One of the New York weeklies understands that Mr. John Heenan, better known as the "Be-nicia Boy," is shortly to be married to a beautiful young lady of high position, socially and aristo-cratically, having been regarded by the artists of Cincinnati with much admiration. The lady is very talented, and writes a great deal for various periodicals. But her chief claims to distintion are her military honors. She was born in a soldier's barracks, and educated as a "Soldier's Daughter." This was a decided case, on both sides, of love at first sight; some bloodthirsty brothers, however, have sworn to bar the marriage, and the young lady is closely watched.

NEW STYLE ENVELOPES .- The Postmaster Gene ral has under consideration the propriety of adopting in the preparation of stamped envelopes, a new style, just coming into use. These envelopes are so prepared that black lines on the inside of the back of the envelope, and invisible from with out, become patent on the front when the envel-ope is pressed, and serve as ruled lines to guide the superscription. The additional expense of these envelopes, which are gotten up in superior style, is trifling, and their convenience has commended them to the attention of the depart-

Armstrong, one of the murderers of the mail-carrier near Brantford, Canada West, has made a full confession. During his lifetime he has robbed to the extent of $15,000 in money and jewelry. The largest haul made by him was from the purser's office of the steamer Empire State, when lying at the wharf at this city, the sum stolen by him on this occasion being $2,810. The robbery was effected by his dressing himself as a female and passing himself off as the wife of the cook of the boat. The clothes were furnished him by a prostitute in a house of ill-fame at this place, to whom he gave $300 for the use of them. Richard Cobden has gone west to look af-

Richard Cobden has gone west to look after some investments. Those who imagine this gentleman to be the same Cobden, who a few years ago, was so energetic a parlimentary man, are mistaken; he has lost the expression of earnestness and the individuality of look which then distinguished him, and subsided into the comfortable, well-to-do, uniformly respectable look of the middled aged Englishman, who "takes things easy" and enjoys his dinner.—Boston Transcript.

cannot be retired from discussion in Congress, where it rises up every day in every form, and where it must be met with intelligence, integrity and courage. It cannot be renounced or smothered, or the Government must relinquish its dominion over every subject of its jurisdiction.

And this doctrine of "non-intervention for protection" is only equalled in danger and destructiveness by that correlative error of some minds in these days: "That Congress may not intervene to protect; for if it has the power to protect, it has the power to destroy." This is a non-sequiture, and a weak fallacy and gross delusion. The power and duty to protect is the power and duty not only not to destroy, but something far greater—it is the press, we, shall be the press, we, shall be possess the power to withold, deny or destroy either or all of these rights?

Protection to Slavery in the Territories. The Eagle, which repudiates emphatically The Eagle, which repudiates emphatically the position that Bell and his file leaders have talked on the subject of slavery in the Territories, attributes sentiments to Mr. Magoffin which nothing that gentleman has uttered justifies, and then says that if Democrats who hold different opinions on this subject don't support Bell and repudiate Magoffin, it will be evidence that they have no regard for principle. Now we frankly admit, that if Mr. Magoffin was opposed to Congressional protection to—not interference with—slave property in the Territories, under any and all circumstances. protection to—not interference with—slave property in the Territories, under any and all circumstances, we would not support him for Governor. Mr. Magoffin is opposed to interference with such property or any other property by Congress, and rightly so; but he believes that body has the power to protect it, and when a necessity arises, that such protection should be given by positive legislation. Our neighbor, however, with an obtuseness not at all surprising, can see no difference between interference and protection, and consequently uses the term non-interference as synonymous with non-protection. We deny the power of Congress to interfere with slavery in the Territories; we endorse the Democratic platform which commits that party to "non-interference—not non-protection—by Congress with domestic not non-protection—by Congress with domestic slavery in State and Territory, or in the District of Columbia;" but we also, and in perfect consisncy with that platform, believe it is the bounden ty of Congress to prevent interference by its cent, the Territorial Government, with slavery, such legislative enactments as may be neces ary to that end. That our neighbor is honest, no one will doubt who knows him, but those who do not enjoy this pleasure may be excused when they not enjoy this pleasure may be excused when they refuse to believe that an intelligent man, a public instructor, is unable to see a difference between words which are as far apart in their definition as interfere and protect, words which any child of ten years in the State can define, and which no one not wilfully blind or steeped in ignorance will assert are synonymous. Yet our neighbor argues that we are estopped from asking Congress to protect slavery in the Territories because we are opposed to its interfering with that species of property there; and affects to believe that because Rand, Scott and Taylor, who made speeches at land, Scott and Taylor, who made speeches otect slavery when necessary in the Territories ney could not consistently support resolutions r which they voted, and which asserted in terms as same doctrine. No reply is necessary to edito relate to the translation of the property of each to the control of the Eagle in this State who is not ashamed of a cause which requires such a defense; and who does not regret that it has exposed its own ignorance, or the utter desperation of its party, by the course it has pursued.

But the point to which we desire to call atten-ion is this: The Eagle asserts that if Democrata who think Congress ought when necessary to peoect siavery in the Territories, vote for a candi-ate who thinks differently, they will show that here are no principles which they will not abanon for the sake of party. As far as this appl Democrats it is pointless, for Magoffin, t agle to the contrary notwithstanding, agrees with Eagle to the contrary notwithstanding, agrees with them. But it seems to us that our neighbor cannot well get rid of the rebound. He admits there is a principle involved in the question, admits that he does not agree with his candidate in the posiion he has taken, and applying his language to imself, his support of Mr. Bell under such cirimstances proves "that there is no hat" an Oppositionist "won't abandon for the sake of party."

But yet he says he will not be influenced by it. But yet he says he will not be innuenced by it. He doesn't believe slavery is an important question after all. He doesn't care "a cent about it." Not he. He sneers at "gentleman fire-eaters;" and then supports Bell who is classed among his "fire eating friends." A "vital principle" may be involved in the question; but though he thinks and did to the principle of the principle o his candidate wrong in regard to it, he will not let it disturb him in the least." His platform is the spoils, and little questions, which have agitated the country for forty years, and which now threaten the Union, are, compared with this, of but little importance, and entitled to no promi-Does the Eagle represent its party in this coun-

Protection to Slave Property. Gov. Wise, of Virginia, has written a letter con taining his views upon the political questions of the day, from which we make the following extract relative to the duty of Congress to protect slave property in the Territories: THE DUTY OF CONGRESSIONAL INTERVENTION FOR PRO-TECTION. Such are the teachings to me of our past history, and I trust that I have now demonstrated that the inhabitants or people of a Territory are sovereign to form for themselves a Constitution and State Government; as I have shown in the first place, that in their Territorial condition they are within the entire control and jurisdiction, or under the entire rule and regulation of Congress, subject to the Constitution of the United States, and that the citizens of each and all of the States are alikal citizens of each and all of the States, and that the citizens of each and all of the States are alike equally entitled to protection in all the privileges and immunities of persons and of property, common to equal confederates.

And this right and this duty of Protection is not to be evaded or avoided either, by the false and continuous clampathets. Code is required that property. This is but to cast odium upon slavery, by creating the impression that a discrimination is necessary to distinguish it above what is due to other personal and proprietary rights. On the contrary, no such Code is required to create either the right or the duty of protection, and no law is necessary to distinguish slave property from any other property. Ail persons and all property, equally and alike, require only not to be assailed and destroyed in, or excluded from the common Territories. Every species of rights require laws, it is true, suited to their character and to their case. Personal property, for example, must have a law that it shall not be "taken and carried away;" and land, which cannot be "taken and carried away," must have a law that it shall not carried away, 'must have a law that it shall not be trespassed upon in some other way; and so, with slaves and everything else, they must have provisions according to their kind. But the Constitution of the United States, and the laws of Congress heretofore organizing Territories are sufficient; and if amendments of the laws are required it is the dry of Congress to see that they carried it is the dry of Congress to see that they quired, it is the duty of Congress to see that they are provided; of the Executive of the United States to see that they are executed, and of the Judiciary to decide upon the rights under the laws.

The slave Staes should never pretend to any peculiar privileges, and do not, so far as I know.— They ask only that their rights shall not be assailed and invaded, and, if they be assaulted, that saled and invaded, and, if they be assaulted, that they may be protected, as other personal and proprietary rights are protected; that they may have equal, confederate, federal privileges and immunities, and they ask for no special or peculiar Code. The sole question is, what protection does the Constitution guarantee in the Territories. We contend that it guarantees all protection required. and that it guarantees all protection required

Thus it is shown that Intervention for Protection, by the United States, through Congress, is all pervading. It penetrates into States, Territories, Districts, and other places throughout the United States, and is one of the most totally essential attribute. hal attributes of our blessed Federal Union. No doctrine could be more repugnant to its benign spirit, nor more destructive of Federal immunities d privileges, and none more fatal to State rights and the safety of individual persons and their property, than this new light of "Non-Intervenon," to protect all and everything in the jurisdic ion of the United States. It is a question which cannot be retired from discussion in Congress, to destroy, but something far greater—it is the duty to intervene against invasion and violence. The whole American system of government throughout is one to protect against destruction. Because Congress may and shall provide the write of holders correct trial by sure freedom of the conference of th or of the press, &c., shall it, therefore, be said to

Positive legislation is more apt to be passed gainst slavery by local than by national laws. In any practical view, then, we are attempting the shear a lion instead of a wolf. Non-intervention shear a lion instead of a wolf. Non-intervention a simply absurd and impossible, and it is worse han impracticable. It openly avows the mor strous doctrine that Congress, the Legislative Department, the principal, may renounce its juris-diction, and delegate its powers and duties to an But if one Department of Government may re-nounce its jurisdiction and responsibility so may another Department-if Congress may, so ma the Judiciary and the Executive. May the principal powers thus renounce and delegate to agents? The answer shows this subterfuge to non-intervention futile and absurd, and it is a cowardly concession not to claim both the duty and the ower of protection. Whether we claim them or not, or whether they be discharged and exercised or not, they both exist in our favor in all the Departments of the Federal Government. The moral power, rightly wielded, is bound to be dominant in the end over mere numbers. But grant that it is to be overcome by brute force, and crushed by he weight of numbers, still, if the minority be no

Field trials of the larger articles of agricultural machinery, are important things for the farmers. An implement may appear unexceptionably good in theory, or in miniature model, and yet prove worthless on the field of trial, or at least greatly inferior to other implements constructed for the same purpose, which excite far less attention until put to work in the field. This is the place which tests the merit of agricultural machinery, and farmers should insist upon, and inventors and manufacturers be always ready to promote, such trials. Descriptions, asseverations, long advertisements, and windy circulars prove nothing: but a trial in the open field, fairly conducted, shows how the grain falls and is laid, and how the grass and clover reels over and is spread-and this is what farmers want to see and know.

"An experiment in wintering bees, somewhat new, probably, was tried the past winter, by Dr. Stockton, of this village. In December last he took two swarms and buried them (in the hives) two feet under ground, leaving no air holes. To one of the swarms he allowed honey sufficient for heir nourishment, and to the other swarm none Out taking the hives up, a week or so ago, he found both swarms alive, and also found the honey unmolessed. Both swarms are now at work, apparently in a good condition, and as active as the bees Wintered in the usual way.

BEEEDING HORSES .- Mr. M. L. Holbrook. o Ohio, in lamenting that the Northern section of that State is at present " overrun with an inferior class of horses, that ought to be exterminated," accounts for the fact by stating that the most mares are not used as breeding mares there, but, in two many cases, "worn out ones, whose sersize, at mmetry, &c., which we subjoin :

A good brood mare should possess the follow-qualities: Proper size, symmetry, sound astitution, and power of endurance, good action and good disposition. By size, is not meant size of the body system, but a good degree of development of all the vital organs and of the muscles. mmetry, is not meant that symmetry pro oned by fat, but that harmony between the differ-not temperaments which is not disturbed when the animal is not in a high condition. By sound con-titution and power of endurance, is meant a mare free from disease, with plenty of what farmbottom." By good action is not meant rse which can trot a mile in 2:40, but one which n walk four or five miles per hour, and travel or sixty miles per day. By good disposition meant a stupid animal, without life enough ngly, but one which, while full of energy, is d tractable. Any person having s s necessary to say little. He ought to be iontal to the mare, and possessing, in a high egree, the qualities of a perfect animal. It is ue, we have too few such horses, and their ser-

In the May number of the Kentucky Farmer, Mr. Robert W. Scott has a good article upon the reatment of brood mares and their colts, from which we extract a seasenable paragraph:

For the selection of a male, the best general Profession of a male, the best general Brass Castings, Fidler's Patent Metal and Babbit's rule is to prefer one of the color, size, form, and Metal, furnished to order. rule is to prefer one of the color, size, form, and qualities which you would like to perpetuate in the progeny. If the mare has any fault of form or disposition, a male with a like fault had better be avoided. Though some persons of good judgment breed the mare on the eighth day after foaling, the ninth day is generally preferred. Strict punctually should be observed in having her screen a successive periods after she has een bred and refused, and occasionally still later.'

tucky we observe that the dear, good-natured, profitable curs of gentlemen hunters and sporting servants, have recently been satisfying their appatites upon the blood of the woolly, muttony, worthless sheep of that section. Great times, these! Where's the "pack of 15" belonging to our sensible friend, G. M.? In Central Ohio, one warranted in saying that they can offer great inducements, and they confidently trust to their long standing for a liberal share of patronage. head, worth $5 a piece, killed by dogs in a single night. Dear, delightful nocturnal depredators what's $500 to an enterprising farmer, compared with a half dozen curs or a pack of hounds, to a rural gentleman of leisure ! Go it again, Tray Plich in, Blanche! Head 'em, hard Sweetheart! You've got the Legislature on your side, and who's afraid?

HUNGARIAN GRASS .- A gentleman recently from Iowa, informs us that this new forage crop more than holds its own in that State, and that a larger Gum Elastic House and Steamboat breadth than ever before will be put in the present season. We observe that Mr. A. B. Dickinson, of Centrel New York, writes the Country Gentle man that the Hungarian grass of last season, and more than what millet was forty years ago." Mr. Dickinson is good authority, and this statement is strictly true. Yet, if Mr. Dickinson undertakes to say that the Hungarian grass, or Honey-blade grass, or whatever else peculators and speculators may choose to call it, for selfish purposes, is the variety of "millet" that he and other good farmers were familiar with "forty years ago," we undertake to say that he doesn't know what he is talking about.

Timber—Its Durability, &c.—Here is a brace of good paragraphs from the ever well-filled gol of good paragraphs from the ever well-filled columns of the Ohio Farmer. We commend both of them to the especial consideration of our agricultural parisbioners:

"On the score of economy, much depends on the time trees are cut, whether to be used for timber or fuel. That which is cut from the middle of July to the last of August, will last twice as long for timber or fences, and be worth fifty percent more for firewood than that which is cut in the fall or winter. Cut in July or August, the last running of the sap; it seasons through quickly, becomes hard and firm, and will bear far more hard usage than that cut at any other season;

we would urge upon all legislatures never to charter a railroad company without a provision in the charter that the company should, within a reasonable time, plant, or set out and cultivate on each side of their road, a row of locusts, or other trees suitable and proper for ties. It would be a valuable provision for the company, furnishing them with ties at every point where needed, save our forest trees, and beautify and adorn the country."
